

WOMEN EAGERLY LISTEN TO READING OF 'HAGAR REVELLY'

Spicy Extracts From Shop Girl's Life Seem to Be Really Interesting—to Them.

WRITERS AT THE TRIAL

Comstock Attacked, but Is Not There to Hear What Lawyer Said.

The trial of Mitchell Kannerly, publisher, for sending "Hagar Revelly," an alleged obscene book, through the mails, brought a crowd of literate, womanly and otherwise, to the United States District Court this morning.

The major part of the audience was made up of women, no one of whom seemed to leave her seat as Attorney John Quinn, counsel for Kannerly, read long and spicy extracts from the book dealing with a little shop girl's experience with wild and wicked day goods store proprietors and equally wicked nature of embroidery and silk.

Indeed, the feminine part of the audience drank in the extracts with eagerness and apparently longed for more.

Attorney Quinn began his appeal for the defendant early in the forenoon, but his speech was lengthy because of the many interruptions necessary for the reading of certain "rich" parts of the book. None of the audience was bored, however, because of its length. The readings prevented that.

ROASTS COMSTOCK, BUT HE IS NOT THERE.

Attorney Quinn used severe terms in attacking the persons responsible for the prosecution, saying, among other things, that "any one who calls this book filthy has something wrong with his own morals." Attorney Comstock was not present.

Among the well known persons present at the trial were Edwin Sherman, translator of many foreign books; Susan Glaspell, the author; Mrs. Mithell Boland, who produced her gun, and several book publishers.

The case will go to the jury this afternoon, it is expected.

Lambert Diamond Prices Are Plain as Print

We had not been selling diamonds long (we started in 1877) before the public convinced us that we had the right idea of holding prices within limits of moderation. From that time we first bought diamonds from the cutters in Europe, we paid for them on the spot, imported them direct and mounted them ourselves. Only so could we give our customers great economies in the purchase of fine diamonds fully guaranteed. The price of all diamonds, engagement rings, as of all other Lambert jewelry, are marked in figures as plain as these printed on this advertisement. There is no mysterious system of short-hand on the price tags at Lambert's. Everything is open and above-board.

EVERYTHING IS TIGHT IN THE NEW SPRING STYLES FOR MEN

Masters of Fashion Make No Compromise on Decree for Snug Fitting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—It will be a real "tight" man who wears the new spring styles—if those agreed upon by the Customs Fitter's Association here to-day in convention assembled are accepted by gentlemen. Here's what they decreed:

Tight-waisted and narrow neck coats, slightly longer and with a vent in back optional.

All garments "as soft as possible, with no wringing," and tight.

The frock coat is not relegated to the background, BUT the three-buttoned coatway is the real classy garment. It must be braided and there must be any "dip" in front, and it has got to be tight.

Very narrow blading is recommended for full dress suits, which must fit tight.

The dinner coat is to be boomed—because people are doing so much dancing and whirling—and made along the same lines as the sack coat. Cropped shaped pockets in the coat and none in the pants on the sides are provided.

Loose-fitting overcoats are passé; the new ones must be real form-fitting.

Trousers must "appear to be a trifle short" and be VERY tight.

GOVERNMENT PROBES SIEGEL BANK CHARGES

United States District-Attorney to Inquire Into Allegations Against Management of Institution.

Following complaints from depositors in the insolvent private bank of Henry Siegel & Co., Assistant United States District-Attorney Wood announced to-day that Henry Melville, receiver of the bank, would come to his office this afternoon and tell how the bank's affairs were conducted.

The District-Attorney's office knows nothing of the private bank's affairs, but Mr. Wood declared that numerous letters from depositors criticized the management of the bank.

SOME OF THE BEST SHORT STORIES EVER WRITTEN.

The best short stories in the English language have been selected by a jury of famous authors and a number of these will be published from time to time in the Magazine and Story Section of the Sunday World, beginning next Sunday with Bret Hart's famous "The Customs of Peter Field." Among other interesting features of next Sunday's Magazine will be:

Continuation of "The Lost World" by Mr. Arthur Conan Doyle.

A two-page colored picture showing where the ship lies in New York's watery graveyard.

A paper of the story of a rich man in Wall Street.

New way to know your true love by her finger nail.

Whims that fashion favors and some new fads.

Long series of music, "Pretty Little Fairy," a song from "The Little Fairy," the work of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. D. C. Gibson and others in the Children's Court.—Adv.

CHANGES IN POLICE CHIEF'S POWER OPPOSED BY TAXPAYER'S SUIT

Motion in Court Would Also Prevent the Removal of McKay.

A petition to enjoin Mayor Mitchell from advocating the adoption of legislation that will give the Police Commissioner absolute control over the Police Department, that being the only condition under which Col. Goetzale will become Commissioner, was filed in the Supreme Court today by Joseph J. O'Reilly, editor of a civil service paper, who brings the action as a taxpayer.

O'Reilly says the bill, now pending in the Legislature, which gives the Commissioner power to dismiss policemen without trial and taking from those dismissed the right to appeal to the State courts "would re-establish slavery."

That the injunction is intended to remain in effect the present Commissioner is revealed in a statement by O'Reilly in his petition, wherein he says:

"Mayor Mitchell has been in office one month and five days and his present Police Commissioner is an official of wide experience and is in all respects eminently qualified to discharge the functions of his office, and there is no just cause for a change of Police Commissioners or the Civil Service laws governing the department."

O'Reilly says Mayor Mitchell during his campaign promised that he would not attempt to procure the passage of any laws contrary to those then in force.

O'Reilly asks that the injunction first be made temporary, tying up the legislation now pending, and that the issues involved be determined later at a trial with a view to making the injunction permanent. Florence J. Sullivan of No. 27 Cedar street is attorney for O'Reilly.

Acting Corporation Counsel Louis H. Hahle characterized the action taken by O'Reilly as "simply foolish and ridiculous and a big joke."

"Why, the man must be crazy to do such a thing," said Mr. Hahle. "You might as well try to enjoin the right of free speech."
